22: Negotiation & Refusal Skills

What are we going to do today?

Today we are going to practice being firm in our beliefs and we'll learn to communicate our needs assertively when responding to peer pressure.

What am I going to learn today?

By the end of this session, Native STAND members will be able to:

1. Explain the difference between passive, assertive, and aggressive communication.
2. Explain the importance of using body language that matches your words.
3. Identify specific ways members of your tribe communicate.
4. Identify three effective refusal techniques.
5. Use the three refusal techniques effectively.
6. Respond assertively to peer pressure to do something you know you shouldn't (like gossip, cruelty, drinking, drugs, sex, etc.).
7. Provide effective "comebacks" to common sexual pressure lines.

Aggressive Speech and Behavior

NOTES

Three Refusal Techniques¹

1. Broken Record—say “NO” and just keep repeating it

My mom’s not home, Wanna come over?

No.

C’mon, we won’t get another chance like this for a long time.

No, I’m not going to come.

But I really, really want you to. It means a lot to me.

No.

- If you keep saying “no” firmly enough, and clearly enough, the other person will usually get the message. Whatever you do, don’t get tricked into giving a list of reasons, and don’t give into threats.

2. Take the Offensive/Reverse the Pressure—tell the other person clearly what you think or how you feel

My mom’s not home. Wanna come over?

Uh...no.

Please . . .

No. I don’t want to put myself in a position where I’ll be tempted to do something I’ll regret later. So I am not coming over.

- If they continue to pressure you, you can also simply tell the other person clearly how their continuous pressure makes you feel.

When you keep asking me to come over—after I already said no—it makes me feel like you don’t care about how I feel, just about what you want.

But I really want you to come over.

When you keep pressuring me like this, I get really angry with you. You’re asking me to do something I don’t want to do. I already told you ‘no’ and you’re making me feel like you don’t respect my right to say ‘no’.

- You can reverse the pressure by questioning them about why they continue to pressure you after you have told them what you think or how you feel.

But if you really cared about me, you'd come over.

You know, if you really cared about me, you'd stop pressuring me. I already told you 'no'. What are we really talking about here? Whether I care about you or whether I'll give in to what you want?

3. Walk Away—simply refuse to discuss the matter any further

You keep saying "no." Please come.

Look, I'm not going to talk about it anymore.

But ...

I've already told you I'm not going to come over. That's all there is to it.

- If necessary, you may just remove yourself from the situation. Just simply walk away.

Putting It All Together

My mom's not home. Wanna come over?

No, I don't want to.

Oh, come on, please.

No.

Just for a little while.

This pressure is really making me uncomfortable.

If you really cared about me, you'd come over.

If you really cared about me you'd back off. What are we talking about? Whether I care about you or whether I will give in to you?

Relax, don't be so uptight.

Look, I'm not going to talk about this anymore. I told you 'no' and that's all there is to it.

Condom Negotiation Scenarios

Hot Babe

It's Friday night and you are at a party at your friend's house. You've been flirting with Hot Babe all night. Everyone is drinking and getting crazy. You are dancing up close with the Hot Babe and the temperature is starting to rise. The two of you decide to step outside and get some fresh air. You start to make out and before you know it, you are starting to get down to business. You have a condom in your pocket. How will you talk to Hot Babe about this?

Snookems

You have been with your partner, Snookems, for four months. You've been having sex for the past two months. You are in madly in love with each other, so you really don't think there are other sex partners involved on the side. You haven't been using condoms, but now you learned in Native STAND that there are lots of STDs you can get from the other person without them even knowing they gave anything to you. You don't want to get an incurable STD or HIV, so you think you should start using condoms. How will you talk to Snookems about this?

Nice Guy

You are just starting to date this Nice Guy you met at school. You've gone to the movies a few times and held hands. He kissed you goodnight once. He seems like a really Nice Guy and everything is going nice and slow. Now he's asked you to go camping this weekend. You are excited, but nervous that something more might happen between you. You are very serious about protecting yourself and always use condoms. How will you talk to Nice Guy about this?

Overly Friendly

You got high at a party and ended up in the back seat of your car with Overly Friendly. Overly Friendly wants to give you oral sex. You tell Overly Friendly that you need a condom (or a dental dam) for that, but Overly Friendly insists you can't catch anything from oral sex. What will you tell Overly Friendly?
